Impasse over coaches ends meeting before it even begins

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

The Hancock County Board of Education approached a hot button issue in a fairly original manner this week. They voted not to have a meeting at all.

After a motion to accept the agenda, which must be completed at the beginning of every meeting failed with a four-to-nothing vote, the board adjourned until their next meeting on July 7.

While the controversy stemmed from the decision to re-hire Michael Ladner as the coach of the Hancock High Basketball team, other items on the agenda were neglected.

One such issue was the renewal of the district's insurance policies. Coverage for errors and omissions—which works as liability insurance for board members—as well as general liability, auto, mobile insurance lapses on June 30.

At the board's last meeting, a motion to approve the coaching roster failed with a 2-2 vote. Packer Ladner and Rose Acker voted against the roster, saying they wanted to approve each coaching assignment separately.

Peggy Ladner, district four, said she

'Knowing our administration and coaches, we'll probably be able to address these issues and have a good program next year.'

Hancock Planning & Zoning told its requests don't match its rules

Lindmark Outdoor Advertising told county planning and zoning commissioners Thursday that they will not comply with stipulations placed on the approval of their site plans for several billboards.

"We will not comply because it is not listed in the regulations," said Lindmark's attorney Andrew McDonald of a stipulation that the 40 foot signs allow for a one foot setback or fall zone for every one foot of sign height.

McDonald said the regula-

Arboretum is ongoing project of Pass Christian Garden Club

Pass Christian Garden Club strives to promote interest in community beautification, conservation of natural resources, horticulture, and gardening education of its members.

Organized in 1930, it was reorganized in 1950 and federated in 1951. Membership currently stands at a total of 51, of which 44 are active members, five are sustaining members and two are honorary members.

Its objective is civic beautification and support of the 25-acre William Bartram Arboretum and Wildflower Garden on Menge.

Special projects for the coming year include the Spring Pilgrimage for April 2006, landscaping of the Old Town Library and the Friendship Memorial Triangle, and the Food for Sharing Project.

New club president Karen Webb said that the Food for Sharing Project, begun last year, is an outreach focus of the club to help provide food for the needy in the local community.

Webb said of the ongoing arboretum project, "We've requested a grant for maintenance and upgrading of the arboretum, such as improving the pathways and adding more benches along the paths. And we plan a new and improved entrance so that people will know we're there."

The arboretum is named for the first native born American botanist and artist, William Bartram, who was born in Pennsylvania in 1739. According to Helen Davis, one of the arboretum's trustees, he made numerous wildlife discoveries along his trail from North Carolina to Florida, across coastal Mississippi and into Louisiana, until ill health on the Gulf Coast ended his explorations. The other arboretum trustees are Mary Catherine Ward and Margie Walle.

The club has won numerous awards, including being named "Tree City USA" for the past 16 years due to continuous tree plantings.

In addition to the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., the local club is a member of Deep South Region of National Council, The Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., Spanish Trail District, and The Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs, Inc.

DMR arrests capt. for illegal shrimping

The Department of Marine Resources' State Marine Patrol officers arrested the captain of a commercial shrimping vessel, for shrimping during closed season in Mississippi waters about 1 mile south east of Cat Island at approximately 11 p.m. on June 16, 2005.

Marine Patrol Officers Sgt. Joey Moran and Cpl. John White retrieved 77 pounds of 51/60 size shrimp and confiscated one 25-foot shrimp net while on routine patrol inside the Mississippi state line.

In accordance with state statute 49-15-69, the confiscated shrimp was sold for fair market value to a certified seafood dealer in Pass Christian. Three bids are sought from certified seafood dealers with the highest bid accepted. The money from the sale of the confiscated shrimp is placed in the DMR's Seafood Fund. If the violator is found not guilty, he may obtain a court order for release of the funds received from the sale of the confiscated shrimp.

The fine for shrimping in closed season ranges from $2,000 to $5,000.

The name of the individual is being withheld pending prosecution.

The 2005-2006 Mississippi Shrimp Season opens June 21, 2005 at 6 a.m.

MDOT promotes alternate routes for hurricane evacuation

Due to severe traffic congestion during an evacuation of the Gulf Coast last year, the Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) encourages motorists to use alternate routes this 2005 hurricane season. The following highways have been designated by MDOT as alternate routes:

FROM HARRISON COUNTY:

53 to 26W @ Poplarville to 43N to 13N *
15 to 26E to 57N to 45N @ state line to I-20 @ Meridian
15 to 26W to 11N or 43N then to 13N *
@ Wiggins 29N to I-59 @ Ellisville to I-20 @ Meridian @ Wiggins 26W to 43N to 13N *

FROM HANCOCK COUNTY:

43 to 13N *
43 to 603N to 53N to 11N to 13N *
I-10W to I-59 N to I-20 @ Meridian

* Options at MS 13 a 13N to I-20 @ Morton, or 13N to 28W to 27N to I-55 or on to I-20 @ Vicksburg

Motorists choosing to travel on Hwy 49 should be aware that in an effort to relieve congestion, specifically in the Hattiesburg area, the below exits will not be accessible. MDOT law enforcement officers will be in place to direct traffic at these locations:
Northbound traffic on Hwy 49 will NOT be allowed to exit at either Hwy 98 or I-59.
Northbound traffic on I-59 can ONLY exit at Hwy 11 (Exit 60) or westbound onto Hardy Street/Hwy 98 (Exit 66).

Westbound traffic on Hwy 98 will NOT be allowed to exit onto Hwy 49, and will be forced to merge onto I-59.

MDOT will be releasing a "Hurricane Evacuation Guide" featuring a detailed map of designated alternate routes in the coming month. Residents of the coastal area will receive the map as an insert in their daily newspaper and the maps will also be available at all Welcome Centers in Mississippi. The map is currently available online at www.gomdot.com and can also be requested by calling MDOT External Affairs at (601) 359-7017.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Storm-watch technology has improved our lives

Those of us who reside along the coastal areas of the U.S. are now fortunate for the vast improvements which have been made in recent decades on weather predictions.

The advances in weather forecasting do not only benefit coastal residents, but folks from all sections of the country.

As a youngster, I can recall the 1947 hurricane which my parents were unaware of until it happened.

Nowadays, whenever a storm forms in the Atlantic, Gulf, or any place in the world, information is made available immediately.

Today our atmosphere is filled with weather satellites and these NOAA satellites can spot and accurately track severe storms more than half a continent away.

Still, we must all remember, a hurricane is something we have to respect.

Those of us who went through the 1947 hurricane and 1960's Camille can really attest to the dangers of these storms.

Just think of how many thousands of Florida and Alabama residents, as well as folks from other states, are still rocking from the 2004 hurricane season.

Even with all the advances in communications, we still need to make hurricane preparations before the fact.

It seems that 'Uncle Sam' is always seeking ways of taking away benefits from Veterans.

Now the talk is about changing the Keesler Medical Center from a hospital to a clinic.

There are thousands who reside along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, many military retirees, who use Keesler Medical Center as their hospital.

The big thing is that veterans were promised a lifetime of patient care, even for their families.

If all of the Veterans in our area are dropped for major medical services at Keesler, this should place a heavy drain on local hospitals.

Keesler is a top flight hospital, one with doctors and staff trained to handle the needs of active and retired military and their families.

It is hoped that BRAC will not change the operation of Keesler Medical Center by cutting the services our Veterans so valiantly have earned and been promised.

We must enact energy legislation

I've been harping on this for about six years, but the danger of America's dependence on foreign oil simply can't be overstated. This week the Senate again has taken up the energy issue. Each day millions of Americans grow more wary of depending on Saudi Arabia and other dubious nations for oil. America must either expend a little brainpower now and become more energy independent or risk losing our status as the world's only superpower.

Passing an energy bill this year may not immediately slash gasoline prices as we all would like. This is a much broader proposal dealing with a lot more than one type of energy. This is about enacting a long-term, comprehensive, multi-faceted plan for weaning America off our dangerous foreign oil habit. Our economy, our national security and our future are too important for us to remain tethered by energy dependency.

For America to be truly free of these dangerous energy dependencies, we've got to do two things in tandem - produce more energy here in America and become more energy efficient. As many folks know, you've got to both diet and exercise when you're trying to lose weight. So it is with America's dependency. America can't conserve its way to energy independence or produce our way out of our crunch. But if we produce and conserve at the same time, we'll find a healthy balance.

The energy bill before the Senate meets this important dual standard, and it's truly bipartisan. Groups ranging from the liberal Alliance to Save Energy to the more conservative National Association of Manufacturers have voiced support for it. The former estimates that this bill could reduce the growth of our energy use by 10 percent during the next 15 years. The latter group estimates it could save 700,000 manufacturing jobs by 2020. Either way you look at it, these prospects are attractive.

The bill recognizes the penchant for American technology to prevail, even over the most daunting problem. You know, a nation that can go to the moon, break the genetic code, build the fastest supercomputers,

Momentum Mississippi = more and better jobs

BY GOV. HALEY BARBOUR

Do you want a job? Do you want a new, higher-paying job? Do you want your recent graduate to be able to get a good, high-paying job in Mississippi? If you answer "yes" to any of these questions, there is a great plan for you...it's called "Momentum Mississippi."

Mississippi's plan for attracting and retaining businesses is outdated, and our one-size-fits-all approach to economic development is hindering the State's job creation efforts. Before I was Governor, a group of more than 1,000 business, education, community and political leaders recognized this and proposed the blueprint that became Momentum Mississippi -- a plan that will modernize Mississippi's job creation efforts.

New jobs come from three places: when a Mississippian starts a new business; when an existing business expands or when an out-of-state company moves to Mississippi. Right now, Mississippi is not doing enough to help those things happen. The Momentum Mississippi legislation is critical for Mississippi's future success and must be passed now. That is why I have called a Special Session of the Legislature, June 28, for that sole purpose.

The Momentum Mississippi legislation improves our economic development incentives by making critical job-creating industries such as research and development, high technology, distribution and services eligible for incentives. It also provides new bonding authority to encourage existing industries to expand their operations in Mississippi and not go out-of-state.

Regrettably, the Momentum Mississippi legislation, which has been praised statewide, was not passed during the Regular Legislative Session because the House leadership let it die without allowing the full

Letters to the Editor

Our letters policy

House to even consider it. Then in the Special Session, the House leadership attempted to load it down with nearly three dozen bond projects, most of which have never even been reviewed by anyone for accountability. Some of them may be good projects, but I'm not about to let any bond projects get enacted without due diligence like Mississippi Beef Processors. The State lost more than $40 million of your money in that deal, and I owe it to the taxpayers to be sure any future project is reviewed and scrutinized like the beef plant never was.

Fortunately, a clean Momentum Mississippi bill has overwhelming support in the Senate, which has already passed it twice by large margins. One part of Momentum Mississippi is replenishing funds for existing programs. There are currently 80 projects across the State representing almost $2 billion in private investment and 16,000 jobs that could be at risk if these programs are not funded. Over the last 10 years alone these existing loan and grant programs have helped fund projects with $16 million in private investment, which created 779 jobs on the Mississippi Coast.

If Mississippi is not given the tools to compete for good jobs with other southern states, the result will be lower pay for Mississippi families and less state revenue.

BARBOUR-PAGE 5A

Lott -- energy legislation

field the world's most sophisticated military, and show the rest of the world how to find, retrieve and refine their own oil and gas can surely produce more of our own energy.

So, this legislation calls upon Americans to use our technical expertise in an unprecedented effort to develop our domestic resources. For example, with at least a 250-year supply, America is often called the "Saudi Arabia" of coal. This bill will enact a federal program to design and develop clean coal technologies. It also contains a provision for an expansive hydrogen fuel research program -- a conjunction of federal labs, universities and automakers aimed at producing more and better hydrogen cars. It also provides tax incentives for owners of hybrid cars now affordable and available.

The bill will simplify rules regarding American refineries so they can expand their capacity without compromising environmental safeguards. Additionally it paves the way for construction of America's first new refineries in almost 30 years.

It addresses conservation with a provision to enact first-time efficiency standards for 14 major appliances. It provides incentives to expand the production of "alternative" energies like wind power, solar power, and plant sources like the bio-diesel and ethanol fuels being produced here in Mississippi. According to the American Farm Bureau, just the ethanol effort alone could mean the creation of almost a quarter-million jobs resulting from the expenditure of roughly $70 billion in goods and services needed to produce both ethanol and bio-diesel.

Now I'm not saying this bill is perfect, but it is bipartisan. And it contains all the basic elements required to sever America's leash to dubious countries like Saudi Arabia. As always, there will be critics. But consider the alternative. You'll find there isn't one, except to do nothing. If America is to remain the world's only superpower -- the undisputed economic and military leader -- if we are to retain jobs, a high standard of living and our national security, we must apply America's formidable brainpower to the energy question today, or pay a hefty price tomorrow.

Coast communities coordinate to celebrate 'World Peace' Day event

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Seven communities along the coast will hold special celebrations to welcome the Summer Solstice. The Mississippi Gulf Coast Celebration of Life and Peace bonfire will be a chance to bring a picnic dinner and get together with neighbors and friends, but it will also be more than that.

Organizer Ann Scelba, retired teacher and now doctor of energy healing, hopes that the good energy created by the event will be a momentum that will send a healing energy throughout the world. The event will take place simultaneously in other communities across the globe, with one central purpose, to pray for peace.

Native American elders have long envisioned diverse populations gathering and praying simultaneously for peace, said Scelba. Lakota nation Chief Arvol Looking Horse has already set June 21 as World Peace and Prayer Day. Some Native American beliefs state that when as little as 10 percent of the world's population joins together to pray, that the results will become irreversible. They believe that prayer can change the world.

But you don't have to be Native American or a member of any particular religion or social background to join in the effort, said Scelba. She hopes that individuals and families, whatever their church affiliation or belief system, will join in the effort as citizens of the world, who share the belief that prayer can change the direction of the future.

The gatherings will be as diverse as the communities and the people attending them, said Scelba. The one event that all the gatherings will have in common is a song offered as a prayer for peace at 7 p.m., and of course, the bonfires which will light the coast.

"We have a choice about peace and this gathering is about raising our awareness of that choice," said Scelba. "And once our consciousness is raised that changes everything."

All gatherings will begin at 6:30 p.m. on June 21. In Bay St. Louis people will gather on the beach at the Washington Ave. Pier. In Waveland people will gather at the beach at Buccaneer Park. In Pass Christian people will gather at the beach at Old Hwy. 90 near Henderson Point. For information on gathering in Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Gulfport or Long Beach or for other information call 228-452-9819.

NOTICE OF TAX INCREASE

The Hancock County School District will hold a public hearing on its proposed school district budget for fiscal year 2005-2006 on Tuesday, June 28, 2005 at 5:30 p.m. at the office of the Superintendent. At this meeting a proposed ad valorem tax effort increase shall be considered.

The Hancock County School District is now operating with a projected total budget revenue of $31,339,759. 32.41 % or $10,157,130 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. ## Bay's Necaise & Williams set to be honored by alma mater

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

On Monday, June 13th the Bay-Waveland School District Board of Trustees voted unanimously to honor former Tiger athletes E. Michael "Mike" Necaise and Clevan "Tank" Williams. Necaise will have the basketball court at the Wilmer Seymour Gymnasium named in his honor while Williams will have the field at Joe D. McCullough Stadium dedicated in his honor.

A few weeks back the idea of honoring Necaise with the court dedication was brought before the board by former Tiger athlete Tommy Barrett. At that point, the item was tabled to gather community opinion of the move. In Williams' case, the board had been exploring the idea of honoring the current Tennessee Titans safety but were at an impasse on how to approach it.

On Monday night, the impasse was settled for both of the great former Tigers. Also, at the same meeting the board voted to place a moratorium on naming facilities and construction. One of the major reasons for the moratorium is the fact that the Bay-Waveland School District is wanting to implement a Hall of Fame for Athletics and Academics as part of their five-year plan.

Necaise, a native of Bay St. Louis and resident of Hancock County, is one of the community's greatest athletes and, arguably, the greatest Tiger to ever step on the hardwood at Bay High. Early on in his career, he earned the nickname "Go-Go" because it was said that he moved like a go-go dancer on the court.

Necaise played basketball for Bay High from 1965-67 where he earned All-Division and All-Gulf Coast from 1965-67. During his senior season in 1967, he became a national phenom. He was named to the Mississippi All-Star team and was rated as high as the #2-ranked high school recruit in the country.

In 1967, he averaged 41.9 points and 20 rebounds per game and was named a High School Prep All-American. He also scored a Hancock County record of 62 points in a game against Ocean Springs. The record still stands today and looms as large as Necaise, does standing almost 6 feet 7 inches tall. Bay High has since retired his #14 jersey which hangs in the lobby of the gymnasium.

Mike was courted by Mississippi State University as a high school senior which at that time had a premier men's team in the Southeastern Conference. However, he signed with William Carey College in Hattiesburg. In his first game as a freshman, he scored 42 points and pulled down 15 rebounds. He eventually became the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,064 points. That record was broken just recently only because there are more games in a season than back when Necaise played.

Necaise still holds the best season scoring average of 29.1 points per game in 1971 and the most field goals scored in one game with 23 set in 1969.

He became the college's first All-American in 1971 and was drafted by the New York Nets in the sixth round. In 1990, his #24 jersey was retired by the school.

Following graduation, Necaise opted for a career in public life rather than a professional basketball career. He coached basketball for both Harrison Central and Bay High earning Gulf Coast Conference Coach of the Year honors in 1976 and 1977. He served two years as the Assistant Superintendent of Education for Hancock County. In 1980, Necaise won election to serve as the Hancock County Chancery Clerk. He would hold this position until 1995 when he retired from politics.

Williams graduated from Bay High in 1998 after a stellar career as an all-around athlete for the Tigers. He played both quarterback and safety for Bay High and accounted for over 2,550 yards of total offense and 19 touchdowns. Williams was also a standout on the basketball team and the track as a 400m runner.

Following graduation,

Williams attended Stanford University on a football scholarship where he played safety for the Cardinal. During his four-year career in California he became the school's first defensive back to earn national first-team All-American honors when he was tabbed by the American Football Coaches Association. For his accomplishments on the gridiron, Williams was drafted in the second round (#45 overall) of the NFL Draft by the Tennessee Titans.

Williams has started every game since he entered the professional football ranks in 2002 after graduating from Stanford with a degree in Political Science.

Williams is known in the professional game as a heavy hitter. He possesses the size and strength of a linebacker (6-2, 223 lbs) and the speed of a cornerback (4.45 40-yd dash) which makes him a highly valued commodity.

When not playing football or preparing for training camp, Williams volunteers his time as a spokesman for the Boys and Girls Clubs among other volunteer and civic commitments.

Williams splits his time between Nashville, the home of the Titans, and his native Bay St. Louis where he has volunteered time and equipment to his alma mater.

There is no doubt that Bay High is set to honor two giants in their athletic history; however, two giants among men. These two Tiger greats set their sights on dreams of achieving excellence on the playing field. Now, their alma mater is seeking to reward the reknown that these two giants have brought them.

Congratulations, Mike and Tank!

Impson is National Senior Olympian

John Impson

John Impson, a Waveland resident, just returned from Pittsburgh, PA where he represented Mississippi in the 2005 National Senior Olympics. There were over 10,400 representatives from every state competing in 18 events. The National Senior Olympics are held every other year in a different city. This year's theme was "A Generation of Champions." The mission of the National Senior Games Association is to promote healthy lifestyles for adults 50 and older through education, fitness and sport.

Impson competed in both the 100 and 200 meter track events in the 65 - 69 age group. He placed 16th overall in the 100 meter race and 11th overall in the 200 meter race.

Impson said that "Considering that this was only the fifth time I had run in competition since I started running two years ago, I am encouraged to keep at it. Overall, it was a great experience competing against world class runners." Several records were set including a 13.06 seconds for the 100 meter race in the 65 to 69 age group.

Impson had placed second in the Mississippi Senior Olympics last year in Jackson in both the 100 and 200 meters in order to qualify for the National games.

He works out at Lolacano's Health Club under the supervision of J.E. Lolacano and practices at the High School track in Pass Christian, not having found an accessible track in either Bay St. Louis or Waveland.

Impson and his wife Gwen are also on the board of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Senior Games and were involved in staging their second event this past spring with various activities all along the Coast. He sees that the Mississippi Gulf Coast Senior Games are not only an opportunity for participation but also for showcasing the Gulf Coast. They have been instrumental in increasing the number of events in Hancock County of the Gulf Coast Games.

Hard Rock Biloxi job fair a huge success

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Where can you get 10,000 job applicants in just three days? At the Hard Rock Biloxi "Opportunity Rocks" Job Fair.

Wednesday concluded a three-day job fair for the approximately 1,500 positions that Hard Rock Biloxi needs to fill for its late summer opening.

"We went through over 10,000 applications in three days," said Hard Rock Biloxi's VP of Marketing, Shannon Oberlies, noting that many people applied for more than one of the 1,500 available positions.

Though people drove from as far away as Michigan, Las Vegas and California, according to Hard Rock staff, the majority of applicants were from as close as Piquette, Bay St. Louis and Biloxi.

"The response we received validates both the interest in this brand and maturity of the Gulf Coast market's potential employee base," said President and COO, Joe Billhimer. "We not only received a great number of applicants, but a tremendous level of quality, experienced individuals."

Though not all can be hired, Billhimer and the majority of his Mississippi Gulf Coast staff already on board, hope all that attended the job fair got a "feel" for the Hard Rock brand.

"The Hard Rock philosophy is based on authenticity, music and passion. We all listen to music. It is the tie that binds the human race," said Oberlies.

Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Biloxi is owned and operated by Premier Entertainment Biloxi, LLC, d/b/a Hard Rock Hotel and Casino Biloxi.

The $235 million project, scheduled to open in September 2005, will include a Hard Rock-themed casino with 1,500 slot machines and 50 table games, a full-service spa, an 11-story hotel with 318 rooms and suites, a unique beach pool, five restaurants including Ruth's Chris Steak House and Hard Rock Café, Hard Rock Live, a 1,200 capacity entertainment venue, and retail shops.

Shrimp season set to open Tuesday

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) has approved the opening of shrimp season in Mississippi waters for Tuesday, June 21, 2005, at 6 a.m. This action is being taken following eight weeks of intensive shrimp sampling in Mississippi waters.

The legal minimum size for shrimp in Mississippi is 68 shrimp per pound. This minimum average size is used as a standard for determining the opening date. Certain areas may be closed to shrimping activity if sampling indicates that a large number of small shrimp have moved into a particular area.

All regulations set forth in ordinances of the DMR are to be in full force and effect, and all vessels engaged in catching or transporting shrimp in or from the waters of Mississippi must be legally licensed.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. Visit the DMR at www.dmr.state.ms.us.

"Why they used to come over the fields by the thousands and we would shoot them. By gosh, it didn't matter how many birds we shot, there'd be thousands more come over the next day. It were great fun."

—from The Last Days Of The Passenger Pigeons Migrations, by Willey Murke, 1897

I was intrigued. I was driving my pickup on a road leaving Bayou Caddy and looking to my right I could see a huge grove of live oaks bordering the road. These were large oaks, an old stand, probably relics of an old plantation or an Indian midden.

"I believe I can drive into those trees," I started to slow down.

From her position in the passenger seat, Stella looked at the trees. "It's getting late, Paul." She looked at the trees for a moment more. "Heck, go ahead, it's your truck."

I turned the wheel off the road, there was a dip for the shallow road drain, then up onto the grass and we were in the trees. I drove deep in the grove, moving slowly through the open spaces between the trees. The late afternoon sun angled through the tree trunks, low branches, dangling Spanish moss, creating thousands of shafts of slanted light and soft shadows.

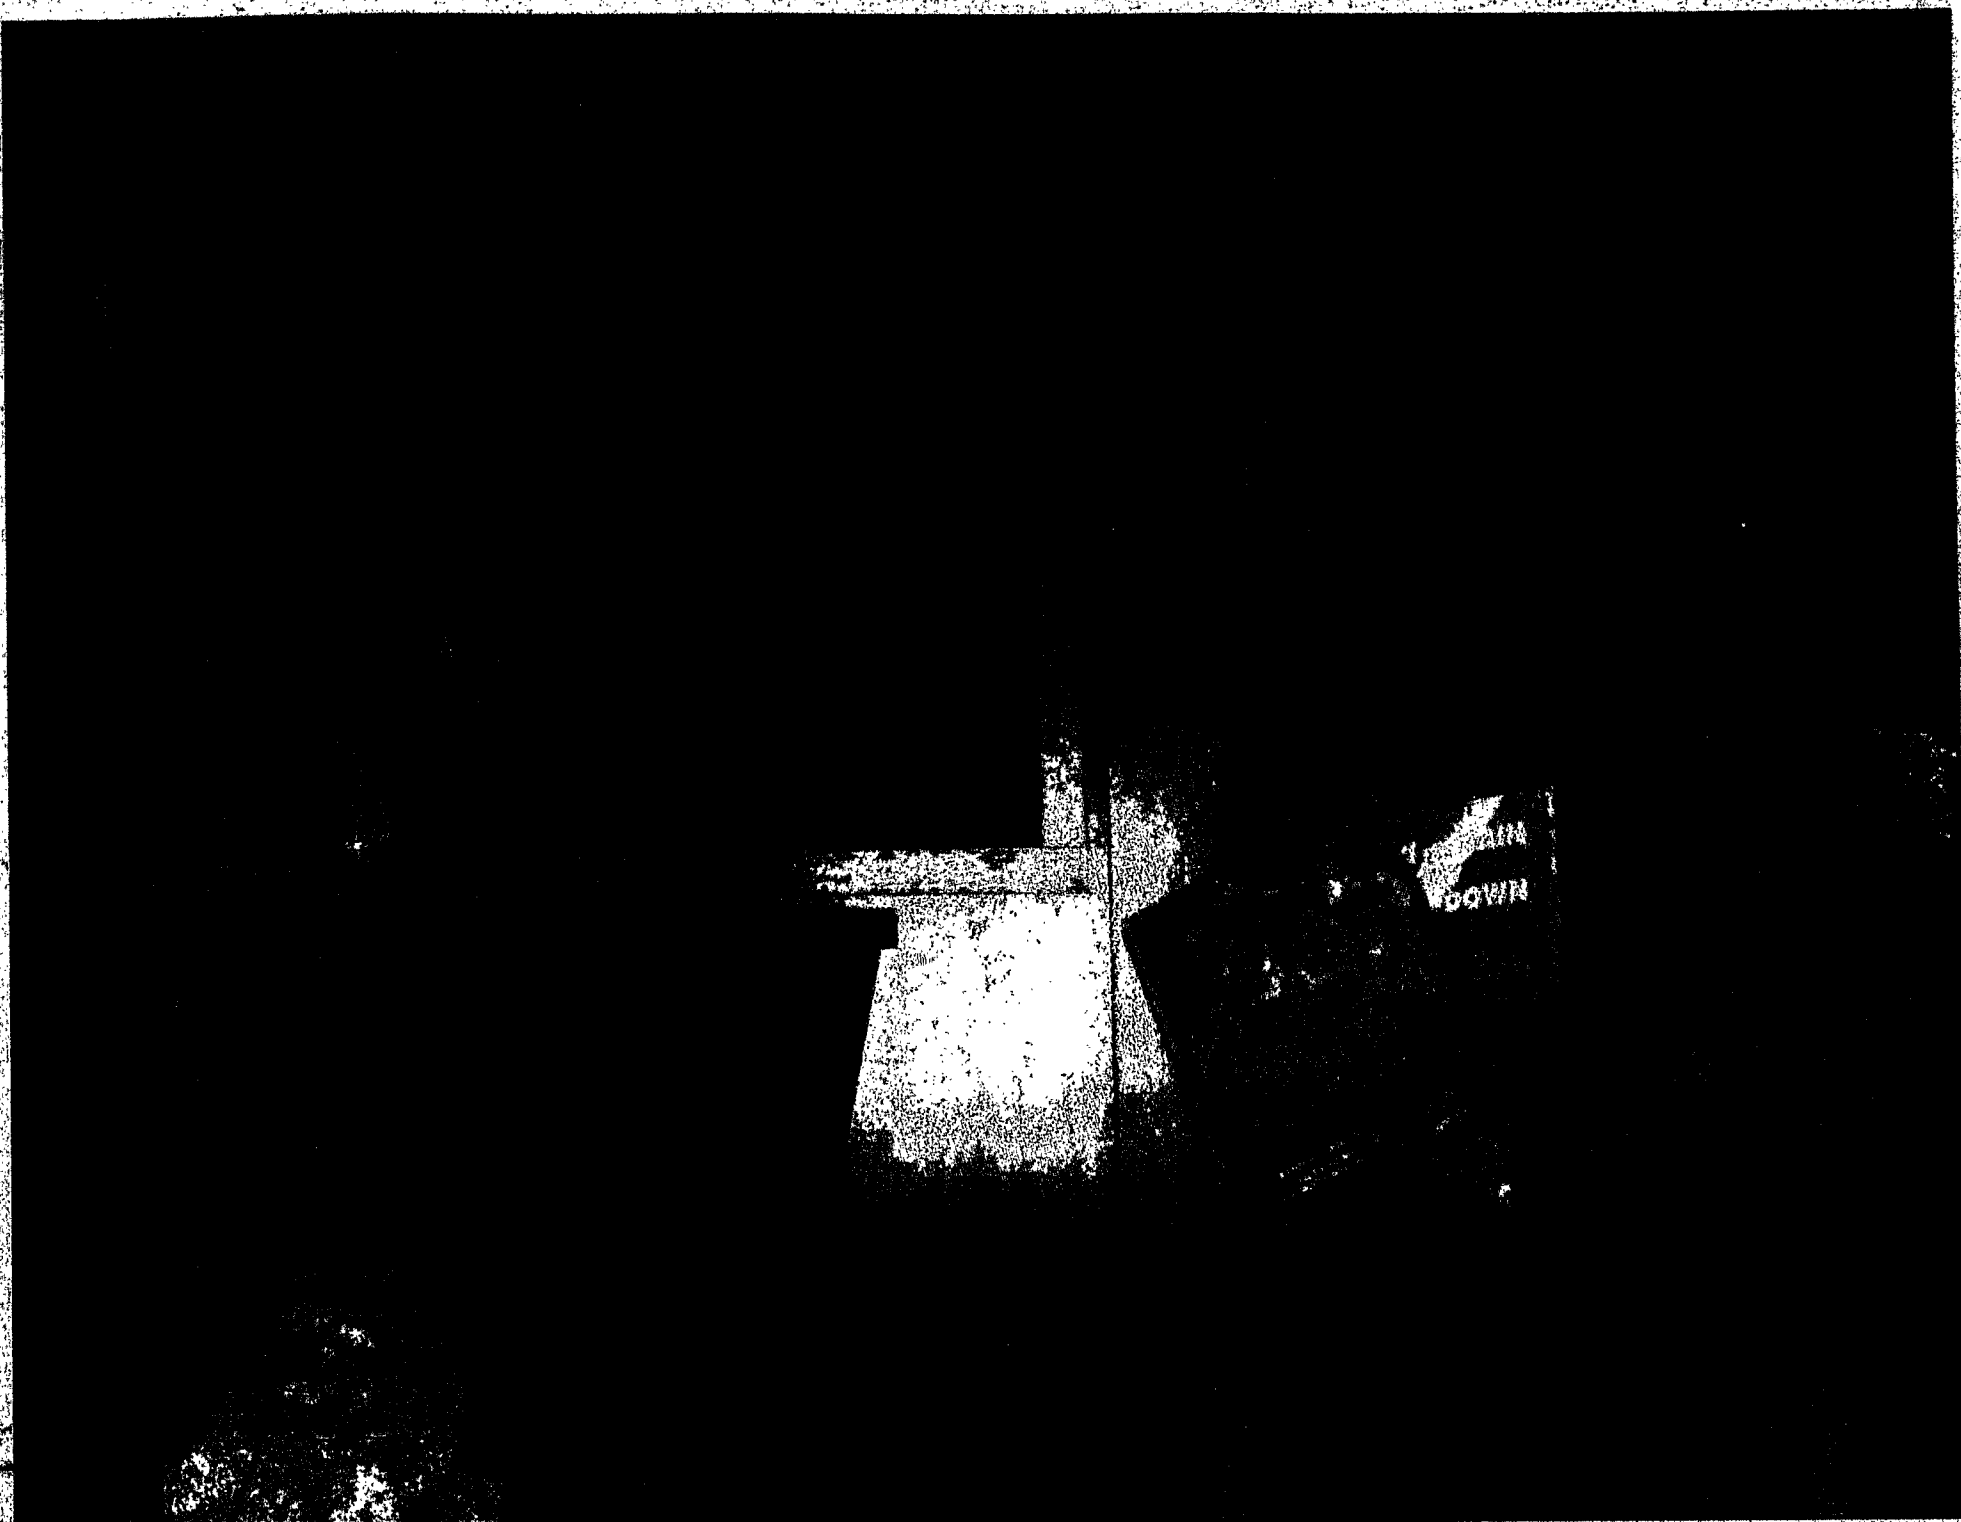

I eased to a stop and got out. Stella opened her door and got out as well. A mockingbird was fussing about something and I could hear the low noise of a diesel of an oyster boat moving through Bayou Caddy about a half mile away. It was quiet, a stillness that was a long moment, frozen. It was as if the woods, the light, the fussing bird and even the low guttural muttering of the oyster boat were fragile, that if I moved too quickly, it would end.

We stood, looking about us in that long moment.

The grove we were standing in was not unusual. Live oaks like these, line our coast by the hundreds. These broad old giants stand among us, silent witnesses to our existence. The ambient presence of these trees permeates our lives; cools our houses, our streets. They provide the

For Ron and Cherie Schadler, their business, Bayou Town Productions, is a family affair. The couple and their 11 year old son Joey travel the state and the nation bringing their messages to children and adults, with the help of puppets. The family performs for more than 30,000 students a year.

Cherie, now a successful children's author, started performing as a singer-songwriter. After auditioning for a Nashville talent scout, she traveled with his show and later worked at a Nashville recording studio. When the owner of the studio asked her to develop a show to interest children in music lessons she knew she had found her niche. She used puppets.

When Cherie and Ron were ready to come home and settle down, they decided to move to the

The Door Bell Doberman and the Passionate Pigeon

Animals do really funny things. One of the greatest pleasures of having pets is that they make us laugh. Sometimes they seem to actually share in the humor. I've known dogs that I swear could chuckle at their own antics. Often, the behaviors we find so amusing are just animals being animals, doing what comes naturally to their species. Other times, the behavior is learned when it results in a rewarding outcome for the pet. My turtail pigeon, Blue, is a good example of natural, albeit slightly misdirected, behavior that provides constant amusement to everyone who sees her in action. Blue is in love with my husband, Pete. Maybe it's his curly hair that to her resembles a luxurious nest. Whatever it is, Blue will seek out Pete whenever she has an opportunity

She once managed to get in his car and rode all the way to Gulfport with him before he realized that he had a "passenger pigeon". We frequently have coffee on the porch in the mornings, and it's sometimes difficult for me to keep a straight face while talking to a man with a pigeon on his head! I met the doorbell Doberman when he and his owner enrolled in my training class last year. It seems the dog had inadvertently hit the doorbell when jumping up at the door to get inside the house, and quickly learned that the "butler" would immediately respond. Very clever, and pretty funny, except that he'd started regularly ringing the bell in the wee hours of the morning, waking up the entire household.

Recently, I heard an Cherie Schadler performs for children at the Kiln Library. The puppet show will be at the Pass Christian library later this month and in Diamondhead next month.

country and purchased several acres of land near Kiln. Their first performance in Hancock County was at Hancock North Central and St. Clare School in 1990.

"We think of ourselves as Mississippians," Cherie said Thursday after a performance at the Kiln branch of the library.

The family entertained children and parents with a performance of "Welcome to Bayou Town," a show based on Cherie's book of the same name. Cherie is the "front man" and Ron and Joey work the puppet characters. The main characters in Bayou Town are Alfons the alligator, Mr. Boudreaux who is a very good cook, Marie, his wife, who seems to be afraid of Alfons, and Toby, their son.

Thursday's performance was only Joey's second with the Bayou Town skit, but he has been performing with the company for about a year and a half. Home-schooled since the age of three, Joey keeps a journal of his travels and Cherie says he hopes to turn the stories into a book someday.

Besides productions based on Cherie's two books, the family has also developed and performs skits that teach children about watershed harmony for the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality, educate them about soil types and land uses for the National Resource Conservation Service, and educate adults about the value of historical trees along the coast for the Mississippi Urban Forestry Commission.

Ron worked as a general contractor for many years, but in 2004, the family was able to "declare independence" when they landed contracts to develop programs for the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality on environmental stewardship. And now, their soil character, used in the NRCS skit, may become an international figure, Cherie said.

The success that the family business has had is a blessing, Cherie says. They feel, she said, that God has allowed them the opportunity to spread positive messages, especially to young people.

"We feel God wants young people to be resourceful and good stewards," said Cherie. "If you can teach children to be a good neighbor and take responsibility for their surroundings, then they will be good citizens."

"The business is partly a business and partly a ministry," Cherie said. "And though we do not want to teach a worship of the environment, we do believe that it is a gift from God and we need to take care of it and preserve it. We have been blessed to travel to many small towns across the state and have met wonderful people dedicated to that purpose."

Some performances are even more special than others. When she allows herself to hand over control to God, Cherie says, amazing things happen as she establishes a closer connection with the audience.

During those times, Cherie says, she tries to look at each person and sometimes, connecting with a child who may be shy or sad and inviting them to participate in the skit, can have positive results, she says. When they can help a child, Cherie says, that is what makes the life the life the family has chosen really worthwhile, because helping children is a calling for both Ron and Cherie.

If you would like to see the family perform they will be at the Pass Christian Library on July 23 and at Calico Books in Diamondhead on July 16. They will also be performing their Watershed Harmony Skit each Friday in June and July at 1 p.m. at the J.L. Scott Marine Museum. To learn more about Bayou Town Productions or to book a performance access their website at www.bay-outown.com or call 228-586-0479.

rich shadows of our summers, the calm, quiet colors to our gardens.

Think of these trees. Think of the fact that there are so many of them. Think of all these trees forming a broad lush carpet five or so miles deep, a unique vibrant hem bordering our coast, stretching northward to blend with the tall pines of Mississippi's piney woods.

Think of the ages of the more ancient of these trees: 300, 400, some as much as 500 years old. Think of them as stretching from another time, a long ago past, our past, to the here, the now of our today. Think of them as a window to our past as well as the essence of our coastal life today.

What I am saying is not new. We don't always vocalize it, but we all know this. We think of the trees as a heritage and a beauty that is both ours to enjoy and something we, as was done for us, must leave for our children and their children to enjoy.

A few years' ago, I visited Blake Edwards, an artist living on the coast and she showed me the long line of ancient live oaks that marched along the back of her property. I listened to her talk about the trees and as she did so, I thought of her work and how the almost surrealistic trees that epitomized her art had had their start here with the trees that she was showing me. After that, whenever I saw her work, I saw again the silent power of life that the ancient trees she lived among had shown her.

"It's getting dark," Stella had walked to her side of the truck and was getting in. I climbed in as well and, starting the engine, moved the truck back through the darkening trees to the road and then home. All of this was several months ago. I think January. Last week, Stella and I drove along the beach road and then decided to turn up to go along that same road to Bayou Caddy. When we turned on the road, we looked for the large grove we had driven through a few months earlier. They were gone. The entire grove, the acres of ancient live oaks had been cut down, there were no trees, none. The entire grove had been leveled into a flat, broad area. The grove had been cleared for commercial development.

I look around us. There was another smaller grove to our south and a line of oaks to our north. I wondered how much longer they would be there. They stood, their leaf-covered branches green against the sky, silent as cattle in a holding pen awaiting "commercial development."

Hancock County has no ordinances protecting its great legacy of live oaks. Not a one.

hilarious story that involves a pet owner, rather than the pet itself. Anyone with animals knows that owning and caring for pets can put us in some strange situations. A friend of mine, wanting to board her two dogs for a couple of days while visiting in Mobile, Alabama, telephoned a boarding kennel in that area. A polite young lady answered the phone with the name of the establishment, and my friend inquired if they had space available on such and such date. "Oh, yes," the friendly woman replied, "how many will be joining us? Two? Well, we have a Valentine's Day special..." How nice, my friend is thinking, this must really be a great place. As they're confirming reservations, she remembers to ask which vaccinations are required, assuring the young lady that both have been to the vet recently and everything is up to date.

There's silence on the other end of the line as my friend inquires what brand of dog food they feed at their business. After a moment, in a voice decidedly more frosty than before, the woman responds, "Ma'am, this is a restaurant for people, we don't allow dogs!"

Apparently, in the city of Mobile, a boarding kennel and a dining establishment share the same name. Too bad, I'm sure Pogo and Maggie would have enjoyed their Valentine's Day special! Laughter really is the best medicine, and when animals are involved, you just never know when the next dose is coming.

Make a difference with world heritage

World Heritage, a non-profit student exchange program, is currently seeking a volunteer local community representative to provide high school exchange students with program support. The ideal candidate should enjoy fostering international friendships, be community minded, and enjoy working with teenagers. Community representatives screen potential host families, meet with local high schools, and provide support counseling for host families and students.

World Heritage also provides international opportunities for families to host an exchange student. If you are interested in one of these rewarding experiences, please call Kimberly at 1-800-888-9040 or visit our website at www.world-heritage.org

Some of the members of the cast of the original play production "trains" rehearse at the Bay St. Louis Little Theater. The play by Timothy Gray will debut at the Little Theater on June 10.

trains. New Orleans playwright crafts 'dark, dark' comedy for Bay Little Theatre

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

When New Orleans playwright Timothy Gray's "trains" opens at the Bay St. Louis Little Theater June 10, the audience will be the first to view the original production. The play, one that Gray calls a dark, dark comedy with music, will run June 17-19, with nightly performances at 8 p.m. and a Sunday matinee at 2 p.m.

Gray founded the Odd Man Out Theater Company two years ago after losing his 70 hour a week job running a hotel in New Orleans. He came to work one day to find the hotel had been sold and that afternoon he went home-out of a job. He considers the loss of that job one of the best things that ever happened to him.

"Now I can spend 70 hours a week with the company, doing something I love," Gray said.

His dream now to build a core group of actors and be able to say "hey everybody, lets put on a show. The company has a fairly regular membership of about 20 people, including actors, technical people and others. Gray is the sole writer. Two other members, Chris Cuddihee and Rebecca Meyers form the backbone of the company.

"Chris helps me herd everybody together and takes much of the responsibility so that I can focus on writing. And Rebecca handles the website and press releases, and helps with directing," Gray says.

Though Gray has written monologues, he prefers a large cast, he says, where each actor plays several parts. In "trains" each of the 18 actors plays at least two parts to form the 70 characters. A rehearsal held at the Little Theater, though taken seriously, gave way to an air of informality-much like the playwright himself exudes.

"I like to have the attitude that it is all going to work out, and it usually does," said Gray. "And sooner or later you run out of time and the show must go on."

Set in a metro train station, "trains" takes a myopic view of a day in the life of both passengers and loiters who pass through the station over the course of the day. Some of the passers through include, policemen on their beat, members of a bachelorette party, mothers, street musicians and businessmen hurrying to and from work.

The play offers minuscule snapshots of the stories of the lives of the people passing through. Some may have conclusions, some may not, leaving the viewer to draw from their own imaginations as to how the story ends.

All of the productions that Odd Man Out undertakes share a common thread. They are all original works. "People are sometimes afraid of original theater," Gray says. But for Gray it is his inspiration.

† God Is Our Refuge and Strength

Behind a righteous, God-fearing person does not mean that our lives will be trouble-free. Actually, I was talking to a woman who was concerned about her husband's health and her support and attendance at church each week. She said that she had many problems. It is important to understand that just because going to church or reading the Bible will not help us unless we are transformed into a better person. Also, becoming more spiritual does not mean that our problems or life's losses will be lessened, nor does any matter to deal with. We should realize that there is really little security here on earth. Material things usually provide only short-term happiness or stability. God's security is forever and knowing that His name about us should help us to better accept our various ordeals. Our Lord had to bear this cross, and we too will have crosses to bear in our daily lives. We can find consolation in the Bible, where God tells us that He is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble (Psalm 46:1). We never have to face our problems alone, because God is always with us, and He will never abandon us. Improving our relationship with our Heavenly Father and focusing on His many blessings will help us to more readily accept our trials and realize how much God loves us.

Call upon Me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you shall glorify Me.

—R.S.M. Psalm 50:15

Grassroots community police

For weeks on end, mortally wounded, unfortunates had been falling by twos, by fours and by sixes in the drug-ridden streets of New Orleans. At wit's end, Chief Eddie Compass enlisted the help of Dennis Muhammad, the Minister of Security of the Nation of Islam, to provide sensitivity training for his police officers. A firestorm ensued in which a Catholic priest, a Jewish rabbi and numerous other voices rose in a chorus of protest against allowing a member of the Nation of Islam to instruct the New Orleans police in community sensitivity. The hue and cry included many members of the New Orleans Police Department who would have none of it.

"You can't get a happy and successful result from a foundation of bigotry and rot. He has absolutely no credibility to stand in front of our community and do sensitivity training, because he is, by definition, insensitive!" said Rabbi Ed Cohn of Temple Sinai.

Such a visceral, vitriolic response made one wonder whether the priority of the people and the police was to secure our city or to slam the Nation of Islam. One caller to a radio talk show even said: "If we reach our hand out to the Muslims, we become the enemy!"

It is quite obvious that what troubles protesters the most is the specter of Minister Louis Farrakhan whose silvery, acidic tongue has been known to damn Jews, Catholics, whites and boot-licking blacks who neither know nor appreciate what their color is.

We are all aware, of course, of how few people bother, or even to bother, about trying to decipher the real, the ultimate meaning of semantics, rhetoric and talk which is aimed primarily at gripping an audience and catering to the cultural bent of constituents.

This whole tempest makes one wonder whether contempt for the messenger is so strong that nothing the messenger is able to do can possibly be redeeming or acceptable. In this case, it is not even the messenger.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Dennis Muhammad who is the issue, but Louis Farrakhan, looming behind him with all the lightning and thunder of his oratory. "It was the most outraged I've seen my membership in a long time," said Lt. David Benelli, president of the Police Association of New Orleans, adding that the disgust came from officers of all ranks, races and religions. "I think Compass heard that and I appreciate the fact that he listened and took action."

Yes, by mid-afternoon, chief Compass, under heat from his own men and segments of the community, had beaten a hasty retreat, backing off the agreement he had made with Dennis Muhammad. Obviously, no one involved in this soap opera knew anything about the history of the Nation of Islam's involvement in community policing.

For what it is worth to local minds which mostly appear to be in a shut-down mode, that involvement goes back a long way, reaching all the way back to the violent, extremely dangerous 1960s. Youth Patrols were developed collaboratively by concerned citizens and police. Unfortunately, these fell short for lack of interest and funding.

However, the Nation of Islam created security patrols through collaboration between community leaders and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. These unarmed security patrols were grassroots, peaceful, youth-focused policing programs trained to deter violence and develop trust in the residents of the housing projects.

Well covered in US News and World Report in 1994, Los Angeles Times in 1991 and Star Tribune in 1993, the patrols efforts were so effective in the housing projects that gangs, gunrunners and drug dealers sought new areas to terrorize. The most amazing thing is that all this was achieved without the use of weapons by the security patrols.

That NOI (Nation of Islam) security patrols were short-lived was due, not to any lack of effectiveness, but again to lack of full public support and funding, even when their successes should have motivated the citizens to do all they could to support them.

By the way, New Orleans is not being singled out as a guinea pig. In the person of Dennis Muhammad, the Nation of Islam has successfully presented sensitivity programs to police departments in cities like Chicago, Syracuse and Buffalo.

Very conciliatory rather than combative, Dennis Muhammad showed support for Chief Eddie Compass' decision, insisting that he did not want his presentation of sensitivity training to become a stumbling block to the chief's career as chief of police.

Muhammad added that the anti-Semitism rap against the Nation of Islam and Minister Louis Farrakhan in particular is more a creature of distortion and out-of-context reporting than of the actual views and teachings of the Nation of Islam.

I started dialoguing with Minister George 4X and other members of the Nation of Islam in 1969 when I began teaching theology at Xavier University in New Orleans. I did encounter some rhetoric and semantics, but nothing dialogue could not solve. On many occasions, my theology students gladly joined in the dialogue in a classroom atmosphere.

How good, how effective were the Black Muslims at fighting drugs and crime? The Federal Government answered that question several times over the years when they called leaders of the Nation of Islam in and consulted with them about their glowingly successful formula of discipline for combating crime, particularly drug dealing and using.

Could it be that the Nation of Islam's anti-crime capabilities are good enough for the tough undertakings of the Federal Government, but not good enough for the city of New Orleans? Or could it be that we may be cutting off our nose to spite our face?

It remains a most interesting and intriguing fact of life that, of all institutions, groups and individuals in the world, the Nation of Islam stands alone in their ringing success against criminal activity, especially the seamy world of the drug trade.

And don't throw up the objection that the Nation of Islam has had violent problems within its own ranks, notably with giant personalities like Malcolm X.

Need I mention that in the Catholic Church some popes were assassinated in the turbulent Middle Ages?

If the message is good, close one eye, pinch your nose to keep the stench out if you deem it necessary, but accept the message despite the shortcomings and objectionable qualities of the messenger.

Remember, no matter who says or does it, what works,

The Natural Man

That fallen nature we all have inherited; has cause us nothing but trouble. Unfortunately it will be for a lifetime. To think, self-control can play a part in curing the desires of that self centered nature, is soon to find it is not lasting.

We all have weaknesses we struggle with. Some are deep rooted and difficult to control. Such as, anger, pride, jealousy, unforgiveness, greed, strong desires of the flesh, as excessive drinking, drug abuse, lasciviousness, and the like there of. Adultery, fornication is now called, having an affair.

Not being married and living together is accepted as the norm in today's society. Unnatural relationships are being introduced to the be understood as natural.

That fallen nature would rather believe a lie than the truth. Does that come as a surprise!

Most of our trouble is caused by the rebellious ungodly fallen nature. Which will bring heartache and sorrow and shame.

So knowing these faults exist in us, what can we do to offset this ungodly nature? The local church and pastors can be very helpful. The pastors will tell you about the God that has the power to deliver. Col. 2:10. You are complete in Him, who is the head of all principality and power.

Only God Almighty, the Lord Jesus, The Holy Spirit can control this treacherous fallen nature.

Reader, you must understand the flesh wars against the spirit and the spirit against the flesh, that are contrary to one to the other, so that you cannot do the things you want. Gal. 5:17. Mark 14:38. So put your hand on the shoulder of the Lion of Judah, He will take you all the way.

Praise God forever!

Worry-warts tend to be somewhat near-sighted

Not too long ago I had my eyes checked, and to my surprise, the doctor took away my trifocals. He gave me a pair of reading glasses. I no longer needed glasses for distance vision. I am farsighted. I need glasses to read. In life, most people are far too near-sighted. They are so consumed with things happening at the moment, they lose sight of eternity.

This is a major problem in our overly secularized world. We live for today. We give little thought to tomorrow. The worries and troubles of today overtake us. We have little time or inclination to think about eternal things. The words of Jesus Christ are important here. "Be on guard, that your hearts may not be weighted down with dissipation and drunkenness and the worries of life, and that day come on you suddenly like a trap" (Luke 21:34). We are distracted in so many ways from the major issue of life, where we will spend eternity. If we do not take care, we will never face the issue squarely until it is too late. Where will you spend eternity? Do you know? Now is the time to answer this all-important question.

The recipients were: Dailey Brannin, Rachel Courtault, Hillary Goodfellow, Katy Kenny, Maggie Mado, Kathleen McKissack, Elizabeth Milner, and Angelina Mistretta.

The American Legion Award was presented to Whitney Huet by Bill Taylor, representing the Eighth Grade students of Our Lady Academy gather after their Promotion Ceremony at Our Lady of the Gulf Church in May.

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community

NOTICE OF INTENTION OF THE SEVENTH FLOOR
Proceeds: Public Participation

Sechel Corporation, on behalf of Circular Wire, Inc., is proposing to construct a 200' lattice tower telecommunications tower facility in the vicinity of 203 Hwy 90, Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi 39675, parcel ID: 15744-2-36-020-000. The proposed development will consist of a fenced compound located within a 50' x 50' lease area and utilize an existing 30' x 30' access drive. The purpose of this project is to provide wireless coverage to the greater Waveland area. The alternative to constructing a new tower structure would be the collocation of antennas on an existing structure. However, feasibility studies indicate there are no viable collocation options within the area. Circular Wire seeks comments from all interested persons on the impact of the tower on any existing, actual, buildings, structures, or objects significant in American history, architecture, archeology, engineering, or culture, that are listed or eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. Circular Wire has conducted a preliminary historic survey of the area. Comments should be submitted to the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi, (47 C.F.R. ## Public Notices

NOTICE OF INTENTION OF THE SECTION 104 PROCESS: Public Participation

Bachtel Corporation, on behalf of Circular Wireless, is proposing to construct a 500 cell site telecommunications tower facility in the vicinity of 203 Hwy 80, Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi 39078, parcel ID: 07112-0-05-020100.

The proposed development will consist of a fenced compound located within a 60' x 50' area enclosed by a 6' x 30' fence. The purpose of this project is to provide wireless coverage to the greater Waveland area. The alternative to this project is the construction of a new tower structure which would be the collection of antennas on an existing structure. However, feasibility studies indicate there are no viable collection options within the area.

Circular Wireless anticipates comments from all interested persons on the impact of the tower on any existing, planned, or proposed structures, or objects, significant in American history, architecture, archeology, engineering, or culture, that are listed or eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. Specific information about the project, including the historic preservation review, and the proposed tower structure, is available to the public at the Hancock County Courthouse, 150 Main Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39502, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on the following dates: July 13, 2005, and July 14, 2005.

15 Ways to Be a Great Dad

You may need to pass a test in order to drive, but being a father doesn't require a license. While anyone can be a dad, there is a big difference between being just a "dad" and being a "great dad." Don't sweat it, though, if you need to brush up on your "great dad" skills. You can easily do so at any time. Father's Day offers an opportune time to get you back on track. Here are some ways to get started.

1. Don't compare siblings. They are separate people with varying interests, talents, etc.
2. Get ready to play. That game of checkers in the living room or catch in the backyard promotes bonding and mental productivity.
3. Be prepared for the unexpected. Your baby could get sick on the night of your firm's party. Or your wife may need to work late one night and need you to pick up the baby from daycare. Flexibility on your part can help control the chaos.
4. Get ready to work. You're going to have to tote that car seat, crib, diaper bag, toys and more. It may not be the most fun in a blizzard or heatwave, but it's part of the job.
5. Practice the art of patience. No matter how loud your baby is crying, getting upset will only make it worse.
6. Don't ridicule or put down anyone in your home. Your goal is to create a positive household environment, not a negative one.
7. Listen to what your kids have to say as well as how and when they say it. By listening, you'll learn about their thoughts and lives and encourage them to communicate with you even more.
8. Learn to laugh. It's true that it's the best medicine — and it's free.
9. Give hugs, especially at the beginning and end of each day. It's a simple way of showing that you care.
10. Be sure to say, "I love you." Those three words can make a kid's day.
11. Keep a united front with your wife. You both need to agree on household and discipline issues and stick with them.
12. Be aware of what is going on at home. Does Sally seem nervous about something? Does Billy have a big test today? Be on top of the needs and concerns of your children.
13. Maintain a healthy family. Feed them a nutritious diet, and promote activity. It's good for not only their bodies, but their minds, too.
14. Promote honesty. Be truthful with your kids, and teach them the importance of telling and accepting the truth.
15. Spend quality time with your children. Don't just sit and watch TV. Toss around a baseball, tour the zoo or bake a batch of cupcakes.

These things are what being a dad is all about.

Monday Best Bets

7 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Wildfire

This new two-hour drama is the pilot for a series about a troubled teenage girl with a criminal past and a way with horses. Genevieve Cortese plays Kris Funtio, who goes to work on a family ranch while her favorite horse, Wildfire, starts training in the sheriff's department equine program. When he flunks out, she risks a trip back to juvenile hall to save him from slaughter. Dennis Weaver and Nana Visitor also star.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Patch Adams

Robin Williams scored another box office hit with this true 1998 story of an unconventional medical student. Though the antics of the title character irritate his superiors, they charm patients and one of his peers (Monica Potter). The star gets plenty of chances to show off his trademark wit, though the film has its dramatic moments, too. One of its producers is "Providence" co-star Mike Farrell.

8 p.m. on AMC

Celebrity Charades

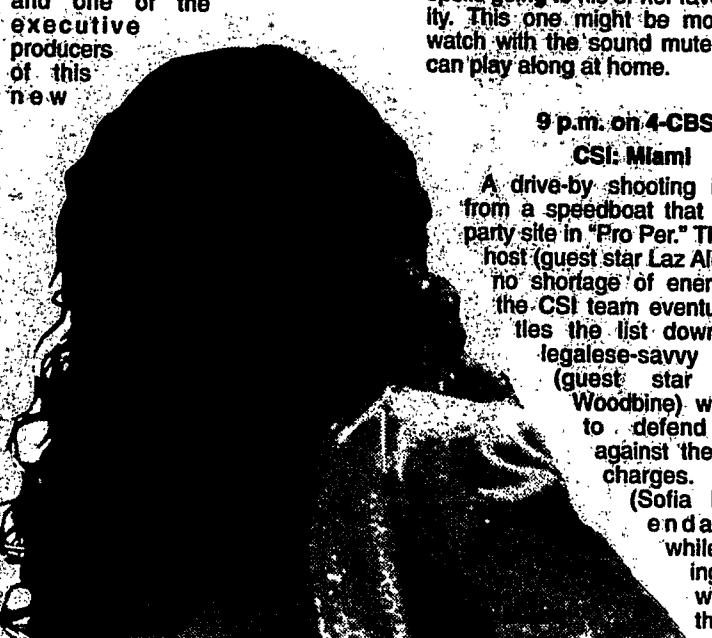

Chad Lowe ("Life Goes On") is host and one of the executive producers of this new game show, whose title says it all. Celebrities play a round of the perennial parlor game, with the victor's spoils going to his or her favorite charity. This one might be more fun to watch with the sound muted, so you can play along at home.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: Miami

A drive-by shooting is staged from a speedboat that passes a party site in "Pro Per." The event's host (guest star Laz Alonso) has no shortage of enemies, and the CSI team eventually whittles the list down to one legless-savvy suspect (guest star "Bokeem Woodbine" who elects to defend himself against the resulting charges. Yelina (Sofia Milos) is endangered while guarding a young witness to the crime.

Chris Meloni

6 p.m. and AMC
Movie: 48 HRS.

Eddie Murphy made his big-screen debut — and a memorable first impression — in this 1982 buddy comedy. His character, Reggie Hammond, is a convict with an unusual kind of work-release assignment: He must partner with a police officer (Nick Nolte) seeking a cop killer whom Reggie knows. Annette O'Toole, James Remar ("Sex and the City") and Frank McRae also star.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
My Wife and Kids

Michael (Damon Wayans) is thrilled to have a ticket to see basketball star LeBron James (who guest-stars as himself) play in "Outbreak Monkey." However, everyone else at home has the flu, and Michael fears he's next. He takes extreme measures to ward off potential illness. Series co-star George O. Gore II, alias Jr. on the show, directed the episode.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS
AFI's 100 Years... 100 Movie
Quotes

"Here's lookin' at you, kid." "Go ahead, make my day." "Show me the money." "I'll get you, my pretty, and your little dog, too!" This year's edition of the American Film Institute's cinematic countdown is all about those lines that have become part of our national vocabulary. The top 100 were chosen from a list of 400 that included seven quotes from "Casablanca," six from "The Wizard of Oz," and five from "Gone With the Wind."

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

House
In "Damned if You Do," House (Hugh Laurie) treats a nun with swelling in her arms, a rash and bleeding palms. Could it be stigmata — those marks corresponding to the wounds supposedly inflicted upon Jesus at his crucifixion? House doesn't think so. He diagnoses an allergic reaction and gives her a shot of medicine, which causes her to have a heart attack. Cuddy (Lisa Edelstein) steps in, but she may be too late.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

I Want to Be a Hilton
Teen actress Kathy Richards became a Hilton the old-fashioned way: She married one. Now as host of this new series, Kathy Hilton works with 14 wannabe jet setters who are competing for a chance to live large for a year. They learn all about how to look and act in high society while undertaking challenges aimed at eliminating one of their number at the end of each episode.

8 p.m. on
49-PAX
Cold

Turkey
In the season finale, the remaining participants share a final dinner and reminisce about their time in the mansion. Family and friends also may a surprise visit, ratcheting up the tension. After the eyes come the revelations; will the named smokers enjoy smoke-free or revert to their old habits? A.J. Benza hosts.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Law & Order:

Special victims unit
Martin Short guest stars in "Pure" as a psychic named Sebastian Baintine, who comes in to help Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Chris Meloni) solve the disappearance of an 18-year-old. The more evidence the detectives unearth, however, the more they suspect Sebastian's role in this matter is not what it seems.

9 p.m. on 19-PBS
P.O.V.

"The Education of Shelby Knox" chronicles a teenager's efforts to change the way sex education is taught in her state. Since 1995, Texas schools have been teaching "abstinence only," which, according to Shelby, a devout Christian who does abstain isn't working; the rates of pregnancy and sexually transmitted disease among teens in her hometown are among the nation's highest.

Wednesday Best Bets

6:15 p.m. and AMC
Movie: Office Space

A corporate cubicle drone (Ron Livingston) emerges from a hypnotherapy session gone awry with a new couldn't-care-less attitude toward work. Soon he's in line for promotion, while his two best office buddies are targeted for the ax. They retaliate with a revenge prank guaranteed to delight any bored worker. Jennifer Aniston, Ajay Naidu, David Herman and Gary Cole also star in this 1999 satire.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

That '70s Show

Eric (Topher Grace) ends up holding the bag and the blame, by himself, after getting his friends involved in a prank against a weird neighbor in "Rip This Joint." Kitty (Debra Jo Rupp) gives a party to elevate what a magazine quiz determines is her low self-esteem. At the bash, Bob (Don Stark) thinks Midge (guest star Tanya Roberts) is flirting with W.B. (guest star Tim Reid).

7 p.m. on 28-ABC on 13-ABC
Supernanny

In "Bailey Family," Jo Frost helps a working couple — he's a policeman, she's a teacher — with a 6-year-old daughter and a 2-year-old son. The boy is a textbook case of the "terrible twos," sweet one minute and throwing a tantrum the next. The girl has mood swings belittling a teenager and refuses to sleep in her own bed. Dad may be a cop, but Frost needs to teach these parents a thing or two about laying down the law at home.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Beauty and the Geek

Getting a woman's phone number is an essential skill for the single straight guy, and it's not as easy as it looks. With four teams remaining in the competition, the male contestants are assigned to approach strangers and get their numbers. The women, meanwhile, put their fashion and grooming savvy to use by giving the guys makeovers. A rivalry between two contestants ratchets up the drama. Brian McPadden hosts.

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Stacked

In "The Ex-Appeal," Gavin (Elon Gold) offers to get Skyler's (Pamela Anderson) grandfather's watch back from her ex-boyfriend, Eddie (guest star Charles Mesure). Eddie is a charmer who fills Gavin's ears with flattery, and he forgets about the watch. Disgusted, Stuart (Brian Scolaro) decides to get it himself, but he can't resist Eddie either. Skyler joins Katrina's (Marissa Jaret) Winokur), knitting group in an attempt to get over Eddie.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

The King of Queens

A convention for model train enthusiasts brings Doug's (Kevin James) parents, Joe and Janet (Dakin Matthews, Jenny O'Hara), to town. While Joe is off at the event, a lonely Janet finds Arthur (Jerry Stiller) a willing escort. Alarmed, Doug tracks down his dad and tells him he needs to start paying attention to his wife or risk losing her. Leah Remini also stars in "Off-track Bedding."

8 p.m. on 38-WB

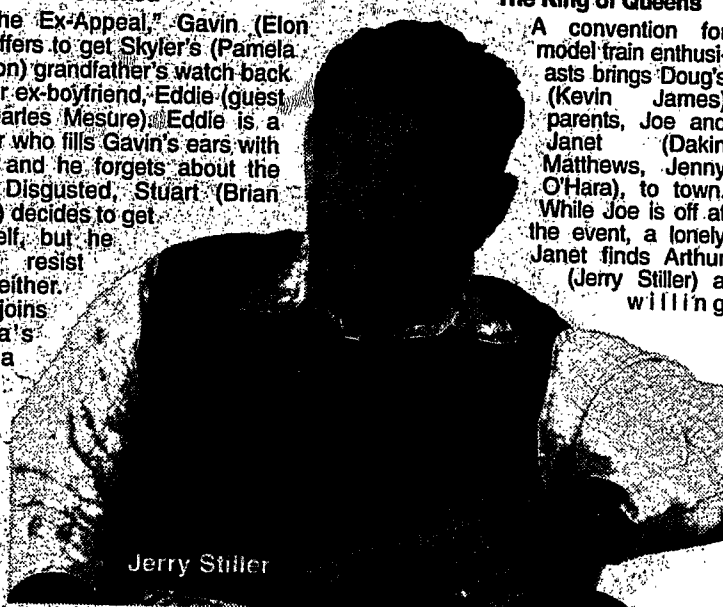

Smallville

If Lana, Lois and Chloe (Kristin Kreuk, Erica Durance, Allison Mack) don't seem quite themselves, that's because they aren't in "Spell." Lana accidentally invokes a 17th-century curse, causing all three girls to be possessed by witches who proceed to turn Smallville upside down. Clark's (Tom Welling) efforts to stop them rob him of his powers.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

American Masters

"Quincy Jones: In the Pocket" profiles the music impresario, including his accomplishments as composer, arranger, producer and performer. For all his professional triumphs, Jones has also faced a slew of personal challenges, including a malady that almost claimed his life. Ex-wife Peggy Lipton ("The Mod Squad") is among those who comment on him.

Friday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Movie: The One

Jet Li has been a prominent action-movie star lately, but for fans who think one of him just isn't enough, he acts opposite himself in this futuristic 2001 adventure. He plays a former policeman who determines the only way to save himself — and the rest of his world — is to travel to an alternate universe and have a showdown with his look-alike. Delfino Lindo and Carla Gugino co-star.

Hope & Faith

Paul Shaffer guest stars as himself in "Hope Couture." Faith (Kelly Ripa) enters a mother-daughter fashion show with Sydney (Megan Fox), and Hope and Hayley (Faith Ford, Macey Cruthird) decide to join the festivities. The event is a competition, and soon it's turning into quite a brawl. Ted McGinley and Paule Litt also star.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

JAG

Can you say "ripped from the headlines"? In "Camp Della," Ham and Mac (David James Elliott, Catherine Bell) are called to the prison camp at Guantanamo Bay, where suspected al-Qaida terrorists are held, and where three MPs are about to be tried for abusing a detainee.

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Less Than Perfect

Claude (Sara Rue) organizes a date for Vivian (Diana Maria Riva)

with Carl (Will Sasso), who is lacking in the romance department. When Vivian finds out who is behind the date, however, she resents Claude's meddling. Jeb (Patrick Warburton) is distressed to learn Lydia and Will (Andrea Parker, Eric Roberts) have a past. Owen and Ramona (Andy Dick, Sherry Shepherd) battle it out in a trivia contest in "Claude's Romantic Hideaway."

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

NUMB3RS

Don (Rob Morrow) asks his math-genius brother, Charlie (David Krumholtz), to help solve the kidnapping of another mathematician's (guest star Neil Patrick Harris) little girl. Charlie discovers that the man was close to the solution of a difficult math problem — a solution that will not only make him rich but holds the key to cracking an Internet security code and revealing a huge financial secret. Judd Hirsch also stars in "Prime Suspect."

Law & Order: Trial by Jury

In "Bang & Blame," a bank employee (guest star Jeff Perry) opens fire, killing a customer. He wants to represent himself, using as his defense extreme emotional distress caused by his son's death. Kibre and Gaffney (Bebe Neuwirth, Amy Carlson) aren't buying it, however, and they play detective to expose the holes in his story. Carey Lowell reprises the role of former ADA Jamie Ross, now a judge.

9 p.m. on ESPN

2005 ESPY Nomination Show

It's up to the fans now to choose the winners of this year's ESPY Awards from the slate of nominees presented in this special from Hollywood, Calif. There are awards for specific sports as well as those that cross categories, such as male and female athlete of the year — won in 2004 by cyclist Lance Armstrong and college basketball star Diana Taurasi. The awards will be presented July 13, and ESPN will air the ceremony four days later.

In Focus

Hey, if Paris Hilton can be the star of an unscripted series, why not her mother? Kathy Hilton proves other members of the family are game as "I Want to Be a Hilton" debuts Tuesday, June 21, on NBC.

The grand prize is a year of living a life as glamorous as the host's, and 14 contestants vie for it. They're split into two teams, and every episode ends with Hilton dismissing a member of the losing team. Just one question: After that year of high living, how do you get the winner back on the farm?

Since "Star Wars" creator George Lucas isn't hurting for money, particularly after last month's blockbuster opening of "Episode III: Revenge of the Sith," receiving a major honor should do the trick. That happens in the new USA Network special "AFI Lifetime Achievement Award: A Tribute to George Lucas" Monday, June 20.

While the "Star Wars" universe is sure to be well-represented, expect appearances by Lucas' associates from other projects such as "American Graffiti" and the Indiana Jones films.
